Hello AES students & families!

I would like to welcome back students from summer break, and I hope that everyone had a great summer! It feels like summer went by so quickly.

My name is Taylor Culberson and I am the School Based School Social Worker (SBSSW) at AES. I worked in the school last year, but the days that I am in the building have changed. I will be at AES on Thursdays and Fridays for the 2026-27 school year.

As a School Social Worker, I support students who may be struggling within their school environment. This can include building skills, talking about emotions or mental health, providing support, and connecting students and families with other services and resources, if needed. I am here to help your child learn skills, feel supported, and succeed! I am also part of the ESS Team at AES and work collaboratively with school staff to best support students.
